

Travel Insurance Tips

Our policy and things to consider

We believe that your safety and enjoyment are the most important parts of your holiday. Before you join your tour you MUST be covered by insurance that includes adequate coverage for baggage, medical expenses and adventure activities. In addition to this, we strongly recommend that you include tour cancellation coverage, in the event that you must cancel your reservation prior to departure because of serious illness or injury to yourself, a member of your immediate family or travelling companions and helicopter rescue.

Please note that cheap online policies and travel insurance provided by credit card companies usually do not provide enough cover for all adventurous activities or tour cancellation.

The key benefit of our insurance is that it is a policy that has been specifically designed to provide exactly the right cover for the trips featured in our brochures and on our websites such as:

- Full coverage from the day you leave home to the day you return, even if you are travelling before or after your trek. Just let us know your dates at the time of booking.
- No elevation limit for hiking – can be tough to know how far you want to walk on a given day and how high that might take you.
- No limit on water grading for any whitewater rafting – river grades can vary daily
- Every activity that can be participated in on a trip is covered; whether that be ice climbing or ziplining, kayaking, whitewater rafting and horse riding
- Helicopter rescue – if you break an ankle in the Grand Canyon and you need to be airlifted, it will be very expensive!
- Cover of up to £150 to 'catch up' with the trip if your arrival is delayed
- 24 Worldwide Medical Emergency service (even in the most remote areas)
- Cancellation cover, including your tour deposit with no excess payable
- Worldwide repatriation to your home country
- Automatic 31 day extension of cover (if return travel is delayed beyond control of the insured person) – you never know
- Covers acts of war and terrorism
- Criminal injuries cover – up to £5000 in in-patient benefit in the event of hospitalisation as a result of being physically assaulted whilst abroad
